

Where to Find a Copy of Your Deed Rider

If you do not have a copy of your deed rider, you can get one from the registry of deeds that serves your area. There may be a charge per page for making copies of these documents. Some Registries also allow you to access the documents on the Internet through their respective websites. You can print your deed and deed rider from the website for these registries, although there may be a charge for this service as well.
