

Young Professionals' Brown Bag Lunch Series presents:

The Still Segregated City: Highlighting Residential Segregation in Boston and Beyond

Part I: Introduction of Concepts and History in Boston and Throughout Massachusetts

January 17: The Still Segregated City with Boston Indicators

Presenter: Anise Vance, Senior Manager, Research in Race & Equity

Join us and the Boston Indicators to discuss the history of residential segregation in the city of Boston, and its continued impact on Boston's neighborhoods and residents. *LIMITED SPACE AVAILABLE*

February 15: Changing Patterns

Presenters: Jim Campen, Ph.D, Professor Emeritus, Umass Boston and Dana LeWinter, Executive Director, Mass Community and Banking Council

During this Brown Bag Lunch, we will take an in-depth look at the statewide lending and homebuying trends following the release of the latest Changing Patterns report.

Part II: National Framework and History

March 14: Causes & Consequences of Residential Segregation

Presenter: Jonathan Spader, Senior Research Associate at Harvard's Joint Center for Housing Studies

During this Brown Bag Lunch, we will review national trends from Harvard Joint Center for Housing Studies' recent report A Shared Future: Fostering Inclusion in American Neighborhoods and how patterns of residential segregation in the US are changing while identifying promising strategies for fostering more inclusive communities.

March 27: Book Signing: The Color of Law

w/Author, Richard Rothstein

In partnership with the MA Community and Banking Council, join us for a Meet and Greet with author Richard Rothstein. His book The Color of Law is a groundbreaking portrayal of how federal, state and local laws have historically played a major part in enforcing and encouraging residential segregation. *LIMITED SPACE AVAILABLE*

More to come from this series, so stay tuned!

Visit: www.chapa.org/about/chapa-programs/young-professionals-program

Questions? Contact:

Beyazmin Jimenez

617-742-0820 x105

bjimenez@chapa.org

